BACK TO THE BEGINNING

Back to the Beginning

The year 2018 marks the 30th anniversary of the establishment of Dail Community. Looking back on our journey, my heart overflows with gratitude for the many blessings we've had. We are now faced with a new era and challenges. It is time for our community, which was founded upon the desire to help that "one person" who had collapsed due to hunger at Cheongnyangni Station Square, to remind ourselves of our humble beginnings and vision.

On November 11, 2017, the Inaugural Meeting of Dail International Daily Dail was held. Daily Dail was established for the primary objective of carrying out medical, missionary, cultural, public health and education assistance programs in poverty-stricken areas in Korea and abroad. The overseas missions that had been undertaken by Dail Community, a social welfare corporation, have now been delegated to Daily Dail, a corporation established under the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. I humbly ask for your prayers that Daily Dail will strive to become a tool of God's peace and love. For Daily Dail, as it strives to become a tool of peace to be commanded by God with joy.

Every year, Dail Community has been hosting a Christmas worship service on the streets with our "Babsang vision" to share warm meals and Christmas gifts with our neighbors. The Christmas worship service last year was particularly special as it was held for the 30th time. I'd like to thank everyone who has supported the missions of Dail with their prayers, donations and volunteer services in the past 30 years. I'm also deeply grateful to God for guiding me along this path together with you. I hope that you continue to pray for Dail Community as we strive to help "one person, one life" in the "lowest place" with Jesus Christ, our very cornerstone, as our role model. That is the source of power and strength for Dail.

I pray that you receive greater blessings from God in the year 2018. I love you. May God bless you.

Sincerely,
Your Little Brother

Back to the Beginning

2017 was a very special year for Dail Community.

It marked the 30th anniversary of the day when a bowl of seolleongtang (ox bone soup) was served to Ham Gyeong-do, an elderly man who collapsed on the street due to starvation, and the 20th anniversary of the founding of Dail Children's House in Hunchun, China for North Korean children and Korean Chinese orphans. Also, it was the year in which Daily Dail, a new center for the overseas missions of Dail, was established.

The kind act of looking after a starving individual 30 years ago has spread across the entire world as a "sharing movement," thanks to the blessings of God and the support and generosity of our numerous sponsors. 20 years ago, after hearing that children from North Korea were crossing the border to escape famine, we visited Hunchun, determined to help these children by making small changes at the outset. Based on our determination to raise and look after these young souls, as though we'd be growing saplings under the harsh conditions of Hunchun, we founded Dail Children's House under China Dail Community.

From sharing a single bowl of rice and planting a single tree, our movement has expanded across the world, with seventeen branches in ten countries worldwide. Our mission to look after the poor, to share and serve, and to nurture talented and competent individuals in developing countries has grown as big as the missions of Babfor and Dail Angel's Hospital. The members of Dail Community had contemplated more efficient and fruitful ways to carry out the international missions and prayed for God's guidance before reaching a decision to establish Dail International Dail Community Daily Dail under the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in 2017, in time for the 30th anniversary of the launch of the sharing mission and the 20th anniversary of the founding of the first overseas branch, to undertake the overseas missions of Dail.

Through Daily Dail, we will proceed with medical, missionary, cultural and education programs in poverty-stricken areas across the world as a way to instill hope among children and foster their development into healthy and upright leaders. In addition, we will help the local residents become self-sufficient as a way to build sound communities.

The Inaugural Meeting of Daily Dail was held on November 11, 2017. November 11 (11.11.) is celebrated as Pepero Day in Korea because the shape of the number 1 is reminiscent of the chocolate-covered biscuit sticks. However, those who remember the missions of Dail call it the Dail Day (Note: 'Da' means 'many', and number 1 is pronounced "il" in Korean) because all of the numbers in the date are one. There's another reason it's called Dail Day. November 11 was the day when a poor junior pastor Ildo-Choi gave a bowl of seolleongtang to an elderly man who was lying on the street helplessly as he had gone four days without food.

Dail Community was built upon this bowl of seolleongtang. As a reminder of the spirit of sharing a bowl of rice, the promoters and regular members of Daily Dail gathered together at Cheongnyangni Babfor on Dail Day to celebrate the beginning of Daily Dail by sharing hot rice and soup with the members of Babsang Community. Daily Dail, which took its first steps with 111 promoters and full members on November 11, will serve as a tool of God, looking after the poor and sharing meals of love until starvation is eradicated throughout the world.

- Daily Dail, sharing the meals of love on a daily basis
- Daily Dail, serving as a channel for the Miracle of Feeding the Multitude on a daily basis
- Daily Dail, nurturing children across the world on a daily basis
- Daily Dail, working together on a daily basis
- Daily Dail is the best!

The Inaugural Meeting of Daily Dail

Dail International Dail Community Daily Dail was founded on November 11, 2017. Daily Dail is a non-profit organization affiliated with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs that was established with the aim of promoting self-reliance among the less fortunate outside Korea through overseas medical, missionary, cultural, public health and education programs, and providing people with a chance to participate in the movement to share and serve as a way to practice love and create a beautiful world.

Daily Dail was launched with a Babfor event. The regular members in attendance at the Inaugural Assembly helped prepare and serve the meals at the Babfor Sharing Movement Headquarters next to Ssanggul Bridge in Cheongnyangni, which was the cradle of Dail Community. It was an event that served to remind the participants of the significance of the launch of Daily Dail.

Following the Babfor event, an inaugural worship service was held in the presence of some 70 promoters and representatives including National Assemblyman Byung-doo Min, former National Assemblyman Gye-an Lee, Seoul Metropolitan Councilman In-ho Kim, broadcaster Jeong-suk Park, and former Deputy Minister of Culture, Sports and Tourism Seon-gyu Park. All of the members prayed and praised the Lord in unison and expressed their gratitude for the history-making launch of the non-profit corporation.

The second part of the Inaugural Meeting was hosted by Seon-gyu Park, appointed as a director of the corporation. Following the declaration of the opening of the meeting, Il-do Choi, the Chairman of Dail Welfare Foundation, who was elected as the temporary chairperson of Daily Dail, presented a welcome address and introduced the promoters. This was followed by a briefing of the progress, congratulatory speeches, and introduction of the agenda items. At the event, Il-do Choi, the Chairman of Dail Welfare Foundation, was elected as the Chairman of Daily Dail, while Jong-sam Park, former President-CEO of World Vision Korea, and Professor Seongchun Oh from Presbyterian University and Theological Seminary were appointed as honorary chairmen. Also, eleven directors and two auditors including entertainer Sang-won Park were appointed. Chairman Il-do Choi conferred commemorative stoles to the appointed directors and auditors, and celebrated the launch of the corporation with them.

Daily Dail, founded with a total of 111 directors, including promoters and representatives, will carry out programs and projects in the areas of medical service, Christian missions, culture, public health, educational support, and disaster relief in poverty-stricken areas worldwide.

More specifically, the missions that will be undertaken by Daily Dail are as follows: 1) overseas disaster relief and volunteer assistance programs, 2) overseas free meal and medical assistance programs, 3) educational support programs at childcare centers, orphanages, schools, etc., 4) healthcare, missionary, cultural, public health and educational support programs in poverty-stricken areas worldwide, and 5) research, seminar, education and training center support programs for promoting international relief and aid development. The primary objective is to carry out the Babfor, Kkumfor and helper assistance programs for children and youth in a more specialized and efficient manner than ever before.

Dail Community, on the other hand, plans on specializing in welfare programs for seniors and the homeless in Korea, in addition to the free meal and medical assistance programs executed through the Babfor movement and Dail's Angel Hospital, under its new name, Dail Welfare Foundation. Korea has one of the fastest aging populations in the world, and the highest senior poverty rate. To better prepare for the "super-aged" society, which will be the fate awaiting Korea around 2026, we plan on organizing and implementing programs geared to this issue including the Well-dying House and the Elderly Abuse Prevention Program.

Please remember Dail International Dail Community Daily Dail, a corporation taking its first steps along with Dail Welfare Foundation, and show your continued support for its activities in the future.

30th Christmas Worship Service on the Streets

The Christmas worship service held 30 years ago to celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ on the cold street corner at Cheongnyangni 588, with three homeless people, marked the beginning of the annual Christmas worship service on the streets.

Three decades have passed since then, and thanks to the volunteers and donors, we were able to give winter clothes and warm meals to 2,500 angels on the streets in 2017.

We are once again reminded of the generous gestures of the people attending the annual street worship services for the past 30 years. We have been able to give out winter clothes every single year, and the worship services became richer thanks to the donations from individuals and corporations.

Because of the donations made to the winter clothing kit fund this year, we were able to present the angels on the streets clothes that will help keep them warm this winter.

We sincerely hope that no one freezes to death this winter, which seems especially cold.

The 30th street Christmas worship service held in 2017 was hosted by Pastor Il-do Choi. Gap su Kim, the team director of Culture, Sports and Tourism, gave a congratulatory speech that moved everyone's heart, and the encouraging words from National Assemblyman Byung-doo Min and Cooperative Ambassador Gye-an Lee, who has been serving with Dail for several years, also brought a sense of warmth. Everyone sang hymns and gospels in unison to celebrate the birth of baby Jesus around 2,000 years ago.

During the street Christmas worship festival, something unexpected happened. An elderly man suddenly got to his feet during the offering, and walked toward the platform. He handed over a 10,000-won bill and a 1,000-won bill($11 amount), saying it was all that he had. He shed tears, as he said those words, and the VIP guests on the platform and the seniors at the event fell quiet, expressing deep, solemn respect.

The elderly man, who put 11,000 won into the offering box, shared his story, explaining that he lived in Myeongmok-dong and saved his old age pension to make the offering. I looked over and saw Assemblyman Byung-doo Min and Deok-yeol Yu, the Head of the Dongdaemun-gu office, holding back their tears.

After hearing his story, Deok-yeol Yu suggested that we provide free dinners, in addition to the daily brunch service, for elderly people like him. Although many people assume that Babfor is a free meal service, it actually isn't, as the service recipients pay at least 100 won(10 cents amount) as a way to maintain their pride and dignity. There are many more people than you can imagine who want to repay the kindness of the donors with a deep sense of gratitude.

It was the money paid by the service recipients that was used toward the establishment of Dail

Community in Cavite, Philippines, and Dail Church in Kamansi, a poverty-stricken area in Cebu, Philippines.

Nine 10-won coins, fifteen 50-won coins... It may have been a small amount, but it stemmed from the heartfelt gratitude of the beneficiaries. Watching the elderly man praying on his feet and the young volunteers giving their all in every aspect reminded all of us to work even harder to practice sharing and to serve others.

I'd like to express our deepest gratitude toward some 300 students who volunteered at the worship service starting early in the morning. In addition to the generous donations made by every individual, the 00 volunteer team's act of love and dedication shown through their hard work from the morning until the conclusion of the event was deeply moving.

The seniors' faces lit up as they received the winter kit that will help them stay warm this winter, and watching this sight made the hearts of the volunteers and the staff overflow with a sense of gratitude. At Dail Community, we'll work even harder to continue with this valuable tradition of sharing. God is always with us and works miracles, as we share love. We ask for your love and support to keep our small but powerful flame of sharing alive.

We met with Senior Deaconess Yeon-ok Nam, who recently resigned after serving in the kitchens of Angel's Hospital and Little Heaven for 15 years. It was a heartwarming interview, where she expressed that although there are some regrets, she feels a sense of relief embarking on a new journey, as she has given her all for her work.

Sharing and Serving, with a Warm Passion

When did you start working at Dail Angel's Hospital and Little Heaven?

Was there a special reason you decided to join us?

Dail Angel's Hospital opened its doors on October 4, 2002, and I started volunteering there around December 24. I started attending Dail Church because of a friend, who was a member of the congregation, and began volunteering in the Babfor program.

I had a wonderful time when I first went to Dail Church. The members of my district group took turns volunteering, and it came as a refreshing shock to me, as it was unlike any other typical church volunteering work that I had taken part in. Then, I also received training to volunteer at the Angel's Hospital. For 6 months,

I attended every volunteer training session, where I had a wonderful time. As time went on, I wanted to become more deeply involved. Then, a deacon, who had been volunteering in the Babfor program for a long time, fell ill, and I was asked to take his place. I didn't know how to do anything at the time, so I declined at first, but eventually I obeyed God's command. It was a process of trial-and-error and I had difficulties initially, but I still enjoyed it. I wanted to do a better job, so I started going to a cooking academy, and volunteered more enthusiastically. Looking back, it was all a blessing from God. I had no professional knowledge or skills. All I did was obey.

What was your most memorable experience at Dail Angel's Hospital and Little Heaven? Please tell us about a volunteer who left an especially strong impression on you.

Of the volunteers I recently worked with, the most memorable person would have to be Su-jin Choi from Yongin. Usually, volunteers discuss religious matters while working together, and Su-jin Choi volunteered every week for 2 to 3 years at Little Heaven, explaining that she was deeply moved by the missions undertaken by Dail Community. She and her husband donated money to purchase rice, and sent food for the patients. Whenever their daughters, studying abroad, came home for a visit, the entire family would come to volunteer. I found it very beautiful, the way they nurtured their daughters with their faith in God. The way they shared, prayed and bonded through their faith in God left a strong impression on me.

It was thanks to the regular volunteers like Su-jin Choi that I was able to do my job more smoothly. I'm grateful to them for that.

Could you tell us a story of a patient whom you found especially memorable?

There are many patients that I find memorable, but there was a married couple who left a strong impression on me. They were an elderly Korean Chinese couple. The husband was admitted to the hospital in a very dire situation following a brain hemorrhage that had left him paralyzed. Because he was gravely unwell, the wife couldn't go to work, and instead had to look after him at the hospital. She often expressed to us her gratitude and apologies from the bottom of her heart.

Another memorable person was a female cancer patient, who donated her corneas. When I prayed for her on her deathbed, she thanked us, saying that so many people, especially those at the Angel's Hospital, showered her with the kind of love she had not previously received. She shed tears from her huge eyes, as she said, "Thank you, Senior Deaconess." I still can't forget the look in her eyes.

I received so much blessing, while being with the patients and volunteers. In them, I saw a reflection of Jesus. I wasn't like this before; I used to be selfish. It's all God's blessing. What I gained is so much more than what I gave.

How were you able to volunteer for so many years? (It must've been repetitive, and you've probably experienced difficulties.)

It's true that I've experienced many hardships. Sometimes when there weren't enough volunteers and I felt overwhelmed, trying to do everything on my own, I couldn't help but think about quitting. But every time that happened, I reminded myself of how important this mission was. I prayed, while thinking of the staffs working in the field with more difficulties, "God, I'm sorry. I cannot do this if you don't give me the strength I need." Whenever I prayed, He answered. I had many experiences of God's hands.

Before the break of dawn, while preparing for the breakfast, I could spend time with God, alone. I'd turn on praise songs, and prayed, dedicating the day to God. I'd listen to sermons and praise the Lord. It was this way of nurturing my spirituality that allowed me to get this far. It was all thanks to the power of prayer and God's words.

You must've had various thoughts and feelings, while working with Dail Community. How has your work at the Angel's Hospital and Little Heaven influenced your life? How has it changed your thoughts and feelings?

I've changed a lot. In the past, all I cared about was myself and my family, but while helping others at Dail, I started to care about others, and gained a sense of passion to learn, as well - to learn how to cook and to learn about social welfare services as a way to fulfill the needs of the people seeking our help.

More recently, I even started studying food and nutrition. My desire to help others compelled me to continually learn new things, as a way to make up for what I lack, and it led toward considerable personal development.

I also learned to be patient and tenacious. I'd always been hot-headed and impatient, but I learned to control that part of me, while doing this job. I've been able to cultivate myself.

What's your definition of "sharing" and "serving"?

My idea of sharing and serving is to share my own feelings and to accept the feelings of others. These days, people yearn for warm affection, and there are more people who suffer from loneliness than those suffering from hunger. Even many of the volunteers come to feel a sense of connection with others. The act of reaching out a hand and giving a shoulder to lean on to people who are suffering from loneliness and hardships by just being yourself, regardless of your situation, is "sharing," in my opinion. Sharing a sense of affection and connecting with each other... That, I believe, is what defines sharing and serving.

Dail Community is celebrating its 30th anniversary. Please say a few words to the members of Dail Community.

Personally, I feel that I've given my all, so I have no regrets or lingering attachments. I feel very light-hearted. I've grown old, so it'd be burdensome and physically draining to do more. It's time for me to rest.

I truly love Dail Community, and I hope that it stays as an excellent non-governmental organization (NGO) in the future – so good that people say, "Dail Community is an excellent organization. I'd like to donate to it." I have the utmost love and respect for the pastor and his wife.

And I wish all the best for Dail, which I dearly love. What I'm always praying for is for Dail Community to not lose sight of its initial commitment as it continues to grow. That's what I always pray for whenever I'm praying for Dail.

Everything that happened while I was with Dail is ultimately a blessing that I'm grateful for.

Happy New Year!

With the arrival of the year 2018, we'd like to extend our heartfelt gratitude and Happy New Year wishes, as we embark on a brand new beginning as China Dail Community. Thank you, and we love you!

China Dail Community Affectionate Heart Society

Dail Community of China is off to a brand new start after transferring the facilities of Dail Children's House to the government of Hunchun and donating all of the fixtures, furnishings and even the van.

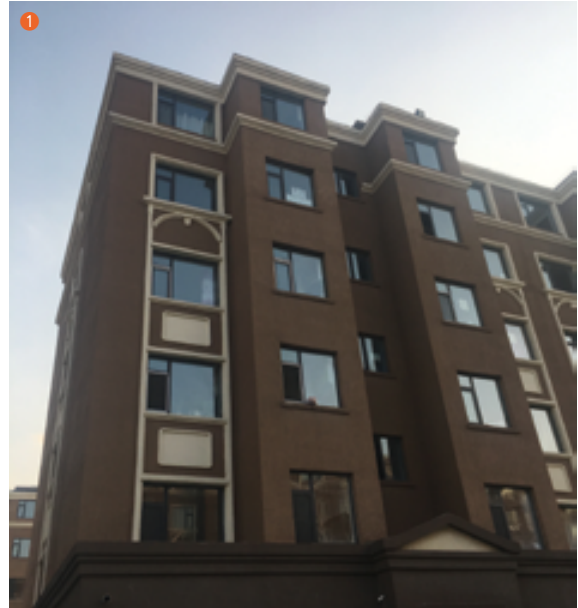

With the closure of Dail Children's House, the two apartment units, donated by Korea Dail Community for the graduates to use anytime, are currently being redecorated as a new nest of China Dail Community.

The two apartment units facing each other will serve as a home to the Affectionate Heart Society. One unit will be used as a guesthouse and the home of the brothers of Dail, and the other will be used as an office of China Dail Community and the home of the sisters of Dail.

For this project, beds and furnishings were purchased with the donations from the men and women, who had volunteered with China Dail Community for a year or half a year when they were young adults. The personal items of the graduates, who have moved out of the region, will be stored in the apartment units, and old photographs that bring back memories have been posted on the walls so that they will feel at home whenever they return for a visit.

Zhuang Yao, a hair dresser who graduated from Dail Children's House, and Haitao Wang, a third year student majoring in the Russian language at a vocational high school, started living together in one of the apartment units.

As such, these apartment units will serve as a place that helps graduating students lead an independent life and for graduates to visit anytime when they miss home. They will also play a meaningful and beautiful role, as an office of China Dail Community, as it endeavors to operate the Affectionate Heart Society.

Support for the Hunchun Child Welfare Center

Even after sending fourteen children to the Hunchun Child Welfare Center, we at China Dail Community will stay committed to taking care of these children with love. We celebrate every child's birthday with a gift and a cake. We also make monthly donations as a way to provide educational support for the children. Although we can't be with them physically, we're dedicated to nurturing them for their social and emotional wellness.

As such, we are doing everything we can to humbly and faithfully help the people in need. Please provide us with your warm support, as we take our first steps toward a new beginning.

Starting a New School Term in a New School Uniform

Shalom! I'd like to greet everyone praying for Dal Community of Cambodia, with love.

In Cambodia, schools re-opened in November and students resumed their school life following the long break that lasted from August to October.

Just like the kids in Korea, the Cambodian children had a chance to visit their relatives, travel somewhere close with their families, or helped out their parents at home or their store during the school break.

We've now entered the rainy season here in Cambodia. With many families moving in time for the new school term, we've been seeing new faces at our Babfor Center.

It's been a long time since we last saw our center, filled with numerous children laughing, chatting and playing with one another, with their faces brightly lit with joy and happiness. Their beautiful voices and laughter are echoing throughout the center.

In October, before the re-opening of the schools, we handed out new school uniforms to the children. Prior to this, we took body measurements for tailoring purposes, and while taking the measurements, we were astonished by how much the kids have grown and this brought so much joy and a sense of gratitude to the entire family of Cambodia Dail Community.

The children in the beautiful white school uniforms looked happy and excited, and they promised to stay healthy and study hard in school, with a renewed sense of commitment.

I ask that you keep these children in your prayers so that they may stay healthy and kind during the school year amidst love and blessings. Also, there are many new children coming to our center and asking for sponsorships. I pray that there will be kind sponsors who will help these kids from financially unstable homes build a bright future for themselves, without giving up on their dreams and aspirations!

Children Who Are More Beautiful Than a Flower

We, of course, value the people who come to Babfor for a meal, but we should also never forget those who serve them with warm, delicious food. There are many such people, who are worthy of our praise, but I'd like to recognize Daecheongbab (short for "Daehanminguk Cheongsongyeon Babfor [Korea Youth Babfor]"), who have been volunteering consistently since 2013. Daecheongbab is a club comprised of Korean middle and high school students studying in Vietnam. They volunteer in the Babfor program on the first and third Saturdays each month, and they've shown dedication consistently over the years to carry on this tradition.

They are essentially giving their valuable time on Saturdays for people in need, and it is with a sense of admiration that I say their hearts are more beautiful than a flower.

We've organized a special program for January, with plans to take the students to the Phnom Penh branch of Cambodia Dail Community during their school vacation to engage in sharing activities. They will get to make the rice and bread that will be shared with the local children, in addition to playing games and interacting with the children face-to-face so that they can learn how to be truly one with others. It will be a 4-day program, during which I hope that they will get to meet many children and see, feel and experience many things with all of their hearts. I hope that this "journey of sharing" will present the students of Daecheongbab with unforgettable memories that they won't want to trade for anything else.

A Summer Christmas

A joyous day when Jesus the Savior arrived!

Christmas is a highly anticipated holiday across the world, but there are those who cannot fully cherish the joy of Christmas and they include those who obtain assistance from Vietnam Dail Community. For our neighbors in need, Saigon Dream Church turned into angels without wings. While they still couldn't fully understand who Jesus Christ is or the significance of Christmas, our less fortunate neighbors understood that it was a "joyous day" through the gifts presented to them from Saigon Dream Church. They experienced tremendous joy from receiving Christmas gifts, and I hope for a day when they will get to experience the joy of welcoming Jesus Christ, the biggest present we could possibly receive in our lives.

I'd like to extend my heartfelt gratitude toward Pastor Ju-heon Shin and the congregation of Saigon Dream Church who created a wonderful summer Christmas for us. I love you. ^^

A Much-anticipated Day

The children in Kamansi wait impatiently for the last Saturday of every month. As soon as the final week of the month arrives, kids ask me,

“Are the Korean students coming?”

“When are the Korean students coming?”

This is because even before the establishment of Kamansi Dail Community, students from MJ Academy in Cebu had been volunteering to help these children once a month.

After studying hard for a week, they probably want to hit the beautiful beach in Cebu on the weekend, but instead, they come to Kamansi, a poverty-stricken area, early in the morning, and I can't help but feel a sense of admiration toward them.

The children were overjoyed at the sight of the 35 students arriving on site. The students warmed up by singing and dancing to praise songs with the kids before dividing the work amongst themselves. The male students cleaned up the square near the entrance of the town, while the other students remained at the church, with half of them baking bread and the other half applying ointment on the kids with skin or eye disease. Deaconess Min-seong Shin from Hanaro Church and her family came to volunteer on this day as well. As a recreation specialist, she made each child a balloon animal. Meanwhile, the student volunteers blew soap bubbles with the kids whenever they had free time. The kids boisterously shouted and laughed, as they ran everywhere, being unable to hide their excitement. After thinking about whether I should calm them down, I decided to run along with them. ^^

As the day neared its end, Director Hyeok Yang of MJ Academy made a proposition, which I deeply appreciated.

“Our students could just keep volunteering like this every month, but we'd like to give another sense of hope to the people of Kamansi. If you recommend three studious students, we will provide them with full scholarships until they graduate from college. And if necessary, I'd like to hire them at our language academy.”

“Although it's just a few, I'd like to make those kids a role model who can instill hope in all of the children in

- ① Volunteer team singing with the children
- ② Applying ointment on the kids

I was in awe of how he was putting serious thought into what these kids truly need, as an educator.

MJ Academy was the first to volunteer regular at Kamansi Dail Community. Because they volunteer only on the last Saturday of the month, there are still 29 days when our center is without volunteers.

So to those living in or visiting Cebu, I'd like to make a proposition. Why not visit us once a month or for a day during your visit to Cebu and make it a day that our kids in Kamansi can look forward to?

Also, how about supporting a child that you meet so that he or she can be a role model for every other child in Kamansi?

I look forward to the time when your footsteps lead you to Kamansi and when the hearts of the children in Kamansi become drawn to you. ^^

Glory to God! I'm Director Bhuban Timsina

I met Dail through Dail Angel's Hospital when I became ill while working in Korea as an industrial trainee in 1999. Afterwards, while eating with the seniors at Cheongnyangni Babfor, I was thinking how nice it'd be if we had Babfor in the poverty-stricken areas in Nepal, and God answered by establishing Dail Community in Nepal through Korea Dail Community and Pastor Il-do Choi.

On November 11, 2017, I was appointed the Director of Nepal Dail Community. While moving from Pokhara with my family, I was reminded of the past memories. Not everything goes seamlessly, and I confess that I must move forward on my knees toward God. I ask that you pray for me so that I may fulfill my calling, while putting all my faith in God.

I'd like to thank Kushal, the Branch Manager of Pokhara Dail Community, and missionary Su-jin Baek for all their hard work.

The Arrival of Winter in the Poor Neighborhood

In Kathmandu, the temperature can reach as low as 3°C, and as high as 19.4°C, on average, in December. As such, the diurnal temperature variation in winter is quite significant. It feels like spring during the day, but at night, those living in Manhar, a poor neighborhood where the Babfor Center has been established, must endure the bitter cold in their homes, made with tarp and steel, without any heating equipment.

When the morning breaks, children gather in front of the Babfor Center, rubbing their hands to stay warm, while waiting for a warm meal. With their cold hands in mine, I pray that they can all stay safe and healthy this winter. Please send us blankets, gloves and clothes that can help them stay warm.

These poor children are little angels in desperate need of an act of kindness and generosity to stay warm this winter.

Please pray for these children.

Medical Volunteers: Elder Yong-deok Kim and His Wife

Dr. Yong-deok Kim has been volunteering abroad every year. This year, he had planned on celebrating his 60th birthday by going on a vacation with his wife, before finally deciding to come to Nepal for medical volunteer work.

I was deeply inspired by elder Yong-deok Kim (Kim's Clinic), who said he engages in medical volunteer work as a way to return the blessings he has received, even though he has not much to give. He also met with Tunisa Kuwol

Tunisa Kuwol, whom he had established one-on-one sponsorship ties with. He embraced her and said, "You may not be my biological daughter, but you're a daughter that I gave birth to with my heart."

From the bottom of my heart, I'd like to thank Elder Yong-deok Kim and his wife for giving their valuable time to help the poor and the sick.

Out-of-School Children Project

There are children, who are neglected by society and who cannot even benefit from the free education provided at the government-run elementary schools.

For such children, Dail Community has been running the Hope School and Hope Class in Nepal and Tanzania as a way to help them catch up and complete a certain level of education before re-entering a public school.

In Uganda, a preliminary project has been conducted to run similar programs, with a special interest in "out-of- school children." As the saying goes, "When in Rome, do as the Romans do," there are certain administrative procedures we must complete, as required by the government of Uganda, before we can pursue the Out-of- School Children Project as an ongoing project.

First of all, we met with LC1, responsible for the primary administrative procedure in the villages (Kitiko, Mutungo, and Birongo) near our Babfor Center. We explained our project and were promised a fair student selection process. To be granted approval, we must also teach at Kitiko Elementary School, the one and only government-run elementary school in the region and the school that's nearest to our center, and complete the administrative procedures involving the Office of Education.

We signed a written agreement, stating that we will fulfill our respective responsibilities and provide full cooperation with an understanding of our respective roles. We ask that you take an interest in and encourage us as we endeavor to help out-of-school children return to school to receive universal elementary education and grow into healthy members of Ugandan society and global citizens.

Importance of Raising Awareness

We provided the donated goods to the sponsored children.

The poor harvest resulting from serious rainfall shortages last year has led to a dramatic inflation of food prices. The price of corn powder, in particular, has been fluctuating considerably every month.

We conducted a market survey by visiting the stores we've shopped at before as well as other stores nearby, and we were able to purchase corn powder and cooking oil at the lowest prices at a wholesale market that's not too far from our center and have them delivered to us.

We also visited the sponsored children's home and provided them with laminated family photographs as a gift. The parents and children, who value photographs and understand how precious they are, seemed overjoyed, and we became resolved to provide more photographs in the future.

In addition, we invited the parents of the sponsored children to our center. We informed them of the exact meaning and significance of child sponsorship as well as the spirit of Dail Community to make a united effort to help others. We also reminded them that the Korean sponsors were not making donations because they had money to burn, and informed them of the attitude that they and their children should maintain and the obligations they should fulfill.

After explaining to them of the importance of protecting the human rights of children, we informed them that their duty, as parents, was to stop child labor, protect their children from violence, and respect their children's opinions, and their children's duty, as students, was to attend school every day and study conscientiously in class. While seeing the children and their parents listening attentively, I was reminded of the importance and necessity of providing information and raising awareness.

I Pray for the Establishment of Dail Vision Center

Dear sponsors, may the year 2018 be filled with good fortune for you. It's the middle of summer here in Tanzania, Africa located in the Southern Hemisphere, and we celebrate Christmas and New Year's Day in sweltering heat. I'd like to present our sponsors in Korea and North America the heat from Tanzania as a New Year's gift. Haha.

36 students from the 4th Hope Class have finished their final exam and are ready to graduate. 35 of the graduating students are getting ready to transfer to a public school, and 1 student to a special school. There will be 40 children enrolling in the 5th Hope Class on February 1. I ask that you provide the students of the 5th Hope Class with your support and encouraging words, and keep them in your prayers.

Dail Community of Tanzania is carrying out its missions in Kunduchi quarry site, a poor neighborhood comprised of houses that were built on state-owned land without authorization. We've opened our Babfor Center here to run the Babfor and Bbangfor programs, Hope Class, which is an alternative school, one-on-one child sponsorship programs, and local development programs such as repairing old houses for the past 5 years.

I'd like to note that we've been experiencing difficulties running the Hope Class at the Babfor Center. Also, we need new facilities to run a vocational school for youth, who barely graduated from elementary school and wander aimlessly as they have no suitable job skills, a sewing class for the local women, who are having trouble making ends meet as the quarry site becomes depleted, as well as an after-school class and a village library. In order to help the children and adults living in Kunduchi realize their dreams and visions, Dail Community of Tanzania has decided to establish Dail Vision Center. For this purpose, we purchased land near the Babfor Center a few years ago, and have been praying for the commencement of the construction project.

However, the government of Tanzania has announced its plans to develop the Kunduchi quarry site, which had been neglected until now. We must build a roof and fence at the Dail Vision Center site before the development project is initiated. Otherwise, the project site will be developed under the government project, and our plans will fall through. The rainy season of Tanzania lasts from March to May, and we must start working before then. I urgently ask our sponsors to pray for us so that we can build Dail Vision Center as soon as possible. Thank you! ^^

News from the Dail Community of USA

I'd like to wish all the sponsors of Dail Community a Happy New Year, and share with you some news from the Dail Community of USA from the second half of 2017.

First of all, in October, the Dail Community of USA held a special sharing event in time for Thanksgiving. For the third year in a row, we collaborated with the local churches to share turkey, ham and other Thanksgiving food with the marginalized classes in our local community. It was a meaningful event, where we had a chance to look after our less fortunate neighbors during Thanksgiving.

I'd like to express my deepest thanks to Jae-jun Yu, Jong-ho Lee, the Director of External Cooperation, as well as the volunteers, who provided us with their cooperation and assistance for this event.

Another wonderful piece of news is that a spiritual Seminar was held at Young Nak Presbyterian Church of Monterey with Pastor Il-do Choi, providing pastoral care and healing, from November 23 to 25. We had worried that not many people would attend, as it was the Thanksgiving week, but everyone who attended received great blessings from God and it was one of the most enlightening and blessed spiritual assemblies ever to be held. I'd like to extend my gratitude toward Senior Pastor Gang-yun Cho of Young Nak Presbyterian Church of Monterey, who dedicated his all to the successful hosting of the service, and everyone else who helped out.

The Dail Community of USA located in Atlanta held a joint ordinary board meeting of the Dail Community of USA and the religious corporations on November 28. With the directors of the Dail Community of USA present at the meeting, the vision of the Dail Community of USA was shared and further consolidated.

Pastor Il-do Choi was invited to give a lecture at a meeting of the five chapters of CBMC in central USA. He gave a lecture under the title, "Creating a Beautiful World." As a way to reaffirm their resolve to be employed as valuable servants of God so that the Kingdom of God may be established in the business world, the members of CBMC in attendance shouted in unison the five slogans of Dail Community: "From Now On! From Here On! Starting with the Small Things! Starting with What I Can! Starting with Myself!"

I'd like to give glory to God, who has helped us wrap up the year 2017 beautifully, and earnestly hope that the Dail Community of USA will continue to be used as a valuable channel of blessings in the year 2018.

Preparing for Gimjang and Street Christmas Worship Service

Greetings, I lower my head to thank all of the sponsors and volunteers who have been showering Babfor with their love. I'm grateful that we can continue our warm Babfor program with your level of passion and spirit of serving others. The biggest event for Babfor in November is gimjang (i.e. the making of kimchi for the winter season), and it is the Christmas worship service held on the street in the presence of 3,000 people in December. Because Babfor serves meals to around 700 people a day from Monday to Saturday, it wouldn't be an exaggeration to say that we need to make kimchi every two weeks.

The kimchi made during the gimjang season, however, is quite different, as the napa cabbage is in season, with plump leaves. This year, three organizations provided us with their assistance at our gimjang event.

First Story, Sponsored by Kyung Hee Elementary School, Olive Young and Seoul High Court

The Dongsan Club of Kyung Hee Elementary School (Principal Hee-chang Kang) conducted the 15th Gimjang of Love and donated 23 boxes of kimchi. While they probably received help from their parents and teachers, the young students came to us with the kimchi that they had made and transported the boxes personally with their tiny hands. We felt so grateful to these praiseworthy kids that we felt choked up and gained a renewed sense of hope.

At Babfor, we say that anyone over the age of 36 months can serve as a volunteer, and try to encourage people of all ages to serve and share with others. As a result, children come to our center to prepare food ingredients and hand out spoons and chopsticks to the seniors visiting our center. With a sense of conviction that the spirit of sharing and serving they gain in their childhood will exert a strong influence and bear fruits when they reach adulthood, we wholeheartedly welcome all children coming to volunteer at our center.

In addition, employees from Olive Young, a store chain specializing in health and beauty care products in Seoul and Gyeonggi-do Province, brought 100 napa cabbages and 10 bundles of radish, and made delicious kimchi by personally peeling, washing, and seasoning them. Also, the Umyeon Nuri Volunteer Corps from Seoul High Court delivered to us 52 boxes of kimchi, which made us feel extremely grateful and blessed.

I'd like to thank the staff from Olive Young, the Umyeon Nuri Volunteer Corps of Seoul High Court, and the Dongsan Club of Kyung Hee Elementary School, who came to volunteer at Babfor despite their busy schedules. Please remember, acts of love, kindness and generosity lead to miracles and blessings!

Second Story, The 30th Street Christmas Worship Service

One of the biggest events hosted by Babfor is the Christmas worship service held in the presence of around 3,000 people. The first-ever Christmas worship service on the street was held in the winter of the year when Babfor was launched, in the presence of three homeless people, who wanted to attend a Christmas worship service at a church but were denied entry. Ever since then, we've been holding a worship service every Christmas with our brothers and sisters on the streets.

This year, we made preparations to provide the homeless, seniors living alone, and seniors living in jjokbang (tiny rooms) coming to celebrate Christmas with us, with a winter kit comprised of winter clothes, socks and gloves to stay warm this winter as well as a meal box, bottled water and snacks.

With the love shown by numerous organizations, corporations and individuals, we've worked to host a street Christmas worship service filled with abundance. In 2017, the donations we've received will not only be used to help the poor in Korea, but also for establishing an orphanage in Nepal, which is one of the ten poorest countries in the world. Just like the first Christmas when the Three Wise Men from the East presented baby Jesus gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh, we wish to make this Christmas more meaningful by coming to the poor from the streets bearing gifts.

A Rehabilitation Program for the Homeless: Outdoor Class at the Yellow Art Travel Museum in Paju Heyri Art Valley

Dail Little Heaven, a nursing care facility for the homeless, conducted an art therapy program with the subsidy obtained as part of the 2017 Rehabilitation Program for the Homeless, supported by Seoul Metropolitan Government and the Ministry of Health and Welfare.

Through this program, the participants were introduced to a wide range of art tools and Western paintings as a way to ease their fear of creating art, and the House-Tree- Person (HTP) test, a projective test for assessing various aspects of a person's personality, was administered.

The art therapy program, comprised of a total of 18 sessions, was carried out from June to December 2017 in the Program Office on the third floor of Dail Little Heaven every Tuesday.

During the fifteenth session on Friday, November 24, an outdoor class was organized at the Yellow Art Travel Museum in Paju Heyri Art Valley. Participants were chosen among those who attended class regularly and those without limited mobility.

Seong-hwan Oh, the Director of the Yellow Art Travel Museum in Paju Heyri Art Valley, spent an hour explaining each artwork, and even had a Q&A session so that the participants could ask any questions they had. Afterwards, the participants got to enjoy a delicious meal of gondeure-bibimbap (Bibimbap with seasoned thistle) for lunch.

Yi-dae Lee (pseudonym) who participated in the program said, "It is nice seeing the instructor coming an hour early to prepare for class every time," and added, "I assumed the program would only take place indoors. I won't forget that you've brought us to the art museum and provided us with lunch so that the patients and the instructors can have an enjoyable time together."

The outdoor class was organized so that the participants could engage in cultural refinement activities firsthand and enjoy the colorful autumn foliage, which helped them become mentally at ease. They also had a chance to visit famous tourist attractions, which they have difficulty accessing on their own, and gain diverse experiences. At Dail Little Heaven, we will continue to make an effort to develop and provide programs that allow the patients at our nursing care facility for the homeless to gain a wide variety of experiences that stimulate all their senses, rather than letting them become depressed at the face of death.

Hyung Sik Lee Director of Canada Dail

Dail Community of Canada was officially registered with the Canadian government on September 23, 2014 with Dail Community, established by Pastor Il-do Choi from Korea, as its parent organization. It is gaining recognition as an exemplary charity organization that looks after the poor and spreads the gospel. We've visited Yumkwang Church in Toronto, which has been on the forefront of charity activities along with Canada Dail Community, and met with Pastor Yo-hwan Lee Yumkwang Church, located at 2850 John St. Markham, ON L3R 2W4, belongs to the Canada Eastern Presbytery of the Korean American Presbyterian Church. It is an exemplary church that has been achieving sound growth.

Pastor Hyeong-sik Lee

Q. Please tell us more about Yumkwang Church.

A. Yumkwang Church was founded by Pastor Emeritus In-cheol Kim and four families in 1983, and it was built upon their tears and toiling for the past 34 years. We are striving toward our calling, with "yumkwang (salt and light)." I've been serving as the second senior pastor since 2005.

Q. As far as we know, Yumkwang Church has taken a special interest in missionary work. We'd appreciate it if you could tell us about your mission policy and the missions you are currently involved in.

A. Most churches are devoted to missionary work. We are also putting as much effort as possible into missions. For 10 years following his resignation, our pastor emeritus has been sponsoring the missions in Russia and Albania. We have also been assisting the missions in Azerbaijan and Chad as well as the weekly missions, and our congregation has been making a united effort to serve various regions in Southeast Asia and Latin America. Of particular note, our Senior Deaconess Choir has been involved in praise missions, orphanage missions and evangelical missions in Latin America, including Haiti, and serving as a member of Dail Community of Canada. In addition to preparing for silver missions, we are carrying out Saturday Breakfast in our local community.

Q. Was there a special impetus for signing up as the first partner church of Canada Dail Community after becoming aware of its establishment?

A. Pastor Il-do Choi of Dail Community and I are alumni of Presbyterian University and Theological Seminary, belong to the Seoul East Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church of Korea, and received the laying on of hands at the same time. He is also someone I've looked up to for years. In addition to these personal ties with Dail Community, I gained a desire for our congregation to make a small contribution to the global mission work taken on by Dail Community, while watching you carry out Babfor missions among various other missions across the world.

Q. Any wishes you'd like to share with Canada Dail Community?

A. Every country has poor people, and I believe that the Babfor mission is necessary for serving the homeless in Canada and the local communities as well. I believe that, instead of merely donating money or goods, it is important for the members of our congregation to get physically involved in the missions. Of course, our church and other churches nearby are carrying out similar activities, but with the belief that it is important to establish the spirit of Babfor in advanced countries such as Canada, I hope that the Babfor program of Dail Community serves as a good example of serving and helping the people in need all across Canada.

Sahmyook Health University College

Twenty students from Sahmyook Health University College paid a visit to Babfor to administer a dementia test to the seniors. After finishing their meals, the elderly people were each asked to fill out a questionnaire form, and given a pair socks and a hot pack afterwards. During the volunteer work, the students kindly chatted with the seniors and truly served them.

We hope that the students continue to practice sharing and serving others and become medical professionals that we can be proud of!

Police Interviewee Team

Young adults preparing for the national police examination visited Babfor before the final screening interview. They enthusiastically began their volunteer work, and didn't forget to smile throughout the day, while fulfilling their assigned roles and responsibilities. We hope to meet them again as police officers, serving the public!

Presbyterian University and Theological Seminary

Students from Presbyterian University and Theological Seminary came to volunteer at Babfor. They visited during a holiday when there were no lectures as a way to practice serving and sharing with others. Before meal time, the students presented a beautiful singing performance, delighting the eyes and ears of the seniors. With warm and kind smiles, they said farewell to each of the seniors leaving after the meal, and it was heartwarming to watch. We'd like to express our deepest thanks to the volunteers from Presbyterian University and Theological Seminary, and hope to see them again!

Vietnam

The Team from the Human Rights Forum of Persons with Disabilities in Korea

Members of the Human Rights Forum of Persons with Disabilities in Korea, who are at the forefront of promoting the rights of people with disabilities and their social activities, paid a visit to Babfor. They flew all the way from Korea to volunteer at Vietnam Dail Community, where they shed sweat and toiled to help those in need. We're deeply grateful to the members of the Human Rights Forum of Persons with Disabilities in Korea for looking after their neighbors amidst their busy lives, and hope that they will visit again whenever they travel to Vietnam.

Uganda

RTC Missionaries Dong-hae Lee and Eun-hee Kim

Missionaries Dong-hae Lee and Eun-hee Kim are a married couple, who teach students at the Reformed Theological College (RTC) and provide quality education through the Rainbow Montessori Kindergarten. They shared daily bread at Kitiko Elementary School and Kigo Elementary School on a Wednesday when student meal services are provided.

Pastor Richard

Pastor Richard, who is spreading the gospel among youth and college students in his home country, Uganda, after obtaining his master's degree at Asian United Theological University, came to the Babfor Center. He had shed sweat and toiled at Cheongnyangni Babfor, and he joined us once again to practice sharing and serving others.

Little Heaven

Ssangyong Cement Industrial

Employees from Ssangyong Cement Industrial paid a visit to Dail Little Heaven. They've been volunteering with us, despite their busy schedules, and bringing gifts for the people at Little Heaven every time. This time, they brought us cleaning tools so that the areas for the senior residents can be kept clean and sanitary. They cleaned the facilities using the tools they'd brought, and we were moved by their kindness once again. We wish the employees from Ssangyong Cement Industrial good fortune and happiness in the year 2018.

Shinhan Bank

We were very grateful when we were told that employees from Shinhan Bank would be coming to Dail Little Heaven to volunteer. We'd been grateful enough as it is, with their generous donations, and we were well-aware of how difficult it is to use one's valuable time on a weekend to volunteer. They got to work as soon as they arrived, cleaning the stairs and even the patients' rooms. After finishing up, they didn't forget to tell us that they'll be back. We'll never forget the kindness you've shown to us at Dail Little Heaven. Thank you. Go, Shinhan Bank!

Volunteers from

Haeseong International Convention High School

Students from Haeseong International Convention High School volunteered at Dail Little Heaven. Haeseong International Convention High School is a school for female students, aiming to nurture smart leaders for the global era of the 21st century by raising young girls, who are aspiring to become convention planners, into truly talented and competent women in the area of Meetings, Incentives, Conventions, and Events (MICE). They presented a beautiful choir performance to the seniors, and the staff at Little Heaven were truly touched when they said that they hoped to volunteer again and that they learned a lot from the experience. See you girls again! The doors to Dail Little Heaven are always open.

Cambodia

Ho-jin Son at Dail Community in Siem Reap

In November 2017, Ho-jin Son volunteered in the Babfor program for 2 weeks at Cambodia Dail Community, and touched our hearts with his act of love and kindness. In addition to volunteering in the daily Babfor and Bbangfor programs, he used his fashion design skills to help us with our alternative sanitary napkin project. We were grateful to Ho-jin Son, who served at Cambodia Dail Community with a bright smile and an overwhelming amount of love.

DB Life Insurance

Employees from DB Life Insurance visited Cambodia Dail Community five times in total to offer a helping hand. At our center in Phnom Krom, they eagerly asked us to get them to do all kinds of hard work, and lit up Cambodia Dail Community with their bright energy. They even made a donation to support our Babfor and Bbangfor programs. We'd like to thank the employees from DB Life Insurance once again. Thank you, Lord!

Sarangbit (Love Light) Church and Good School from Phnom Penh

Volunteers from Sarangbit (Love Light) Church from Korea and Good School from Phnom Penh served in the Babfor program. They taught the kids the art of paper-folding using the colorful papers they'd brought with them, washed their hair, and even made them hot meals. There were more children than usual during their visit, so there was no food left for the volunteers at the end of the day. They eased our feelings of guilt and moved our hearts by saying that it was fine, with smiles on their faces. They even made a donation to help us pay for the meal services before their departure. We'd like to thank Sarangbit (Love Light) Church and Good School.

Hong Kong Methodist Church

Members of the congregation of Hong Kong Methodist Church paid us a visit for the fourth time this year. They have been donating money for us to buy speakers, murals and laptops as well as to fund the meal services. During their recent visit, they made a donation for the Babfor program, in addition to volunteering in the Babfor and Bbangfor sanitation program. The members of the congregation of Hong Kong Methodist Church, who volunteer wholeheartedly and make generous donations, are the best!

Philippines

Deaconess Min-seon Shin

Deaconess Min-seon Shin from Hanaro Church in Cebu paid a visit to Kamansi for a balloon art session. She made eye contact with every single one of the hundred children who were there, while making puppies, flowers and blades among other things with balloons. It brought great joy to the children, and even allowed the adults on site to momentarily regain their child-like innocence.

MJ Academy in Cebu

Students and teachers from MJ Academy in Cebu came to Kamansi to volunteer in November. Some of them helped clean up the neighborhood with the children, while others baked bread and applied ointment on children suffering from eye or skin disease. The MJ Academy team, who became the first regular volunteer team at Dail Community of Kamansi, is the best!

DAIL Community Spiritual Retreat Program

You can find a beautiful world through our Spiritual Training Center at the Seolgok Mountain DAIL Community.

Are you experiencing happiness regardless of your environment or circumstance at your own will?

Seolgok-Dail community provides the opportunity to travel through spiritual space to seek a beautiful world on mother earth. For a week you can leave all your worries, sorrows, anxieties, and troubles behind and find answers to the questions, "Who am I?", "Where am I in my life?", "What am I looking for?" and "What is the road to true happiness?" Along with Pastor Il-Do Choi and Yeon-Soo Kim, we have prepared spiritual leaders who can open doors to grace and guide you through the Christian spiritual training that has been passed down through church traditions including a diverse range of prayer training as well as healing of the whole-person including the body and soul.

Finding a Beautiful World

we focus on the negative emotions that interfere with us and help us to discover the roots of emotions, such as sadness, madness, depression, and grievance, which prevent us from living the original nature of God, love and gratitude. Silent Prayer and Inner Healing. Facing these negative emotions in the ongoing questions, we find that the roots of the emotions are the rigid thought structures we have created and the unconscious systems that make up the structure of our thoughts. The awakening to notice the system comes with the "Aha!" experience, where the eggs are broken as if the eggshell breaks, and the ground is shiny.
